

A rectangular box representing a postcard template. The left half is a blank space for a photograph. The right half is a vertical rectangle containing seven horizontal lines for writing an address.

A second rectangular box, identical in layout to the first, with a blank space on the left and seven horizontal lines on the right for an address.